A I am not sure what blocking guide you are using, but the blocking guide on my June Taylor board has a different blocking guide for each dress size. Also the blocking guide that I posted on my last journal entry has markings for each dress size and the article gives the math formula for the blocking guides. I would suggest printing that one off and using it as your guide.

You need atleast 3 times the cloth for the width of the final piece. ie if you want a final smocked piece of 10 inches you need to take 30 inches cloth to do the smocking. But then it also depends on the tightness of the smocking stitches. If you make very slack stitches the cloth needed will be less.

To do this, pin the smocking face down on the ironing blanket stretching it to the required measurement. Place a damp cloth over it and pass a hot iron gently over; the weight of the iron must not rest on the material or the pleats will be flattened. Continue passing the iron gently over the cloth until it is dry.
